

The sadhu and the Ram

Once in a village there was great excitement. People had gathered to watch a Ram fight.

At that time a sadhu happened to pass by.

What is going on ?

A Ram fight.

The sadhu made his way to the front into the fighting area.

Sadhu saw a Ram retreating with his head bowed low. He thought...

He is stepping back ! He is bowing before me.

You are the only noble soul in this whole crowd who can identify a great soul!

Be careful !
He is not bowing before you. He is attracted to your bright clothes & is trying to attack you ! Please step back !

No you are wrong.
The poor animal wants me to bless him !

A moment later, suddenly the Ram hit the sadhu.

Moral: One should not think too great of himself even though he may be spiritually advanced.
