

SURDAS

One child is chosen to be Surdas by reciting one Hare Krishna mantra. All the other children represent child Krishna who used to come visit blind Surdas. Surdas is blindfolded with a cloth.

All the children come close and move slowly around him, dancing, singing songs, and chanting Hare Krishna. Surdas tries to catch them. As soon as he catches one of them, he touches him all over and tries to discover who he is. The child caught must not make any sound.

If Surdas guesses who it is, he joins the crowd of Krishnas, and the child caught becomes Surdas. If he guesses wrong, he must try again.
