Once there was a earthen pot seller

Now this pot is two paisa in the market, it has cost me one paisa. I shall make one paisa profit
I shall invest again. I shall make another profit, another profit and on and on...
In this way I shall become millionaire
Then I shall marry and my wife will be very obedient
And if she does not become obedient, then I will give her a kick like this.

So one pot was there and he kicked it and it broke.
Oh, again I am poor man
