Story of Arjunacharya

Instructive Stories from teachings of
His Divine Grace
A. C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada
Founder Acharya of International Society for Krishna Consciousness
Arjunacharya was writing a commentary on Bhagvad Gita, and it came to the Shloka where Lord Krishna says, “He carries what we have and provides what we lack.”
How is that Lord will come Himself and deliver the goods? Oh, it is not possible. He might be sending through some agents.
Let me change His words from "I bear the burden and deliver." and instead write "I send some agent who delivers."
After some time...

I shall go and take bath now.
In the meantime, two very beautiful boys came with a cart full of highly valuable items like fruits, grains, ghee and vegetables.
Arjunacharya’s wife was there at home

My dear mother, Arjunacharya has sent these goods to you. Please take delivery.
Oh, you are so beautiful boys, and he has given these items to you to get it here? Acharya is not so cruel. How is that he has given so much burden to you?
He asked us to carry on our heads
How can we carry so much?
I refused to carry on my head, so He has beaten me.
Arjunacharya is not so cruel. How he has become so cruel? Ok, take some food stuffs now.
We have to go now, if he will come then He will chastise us.
No, no. You sit down, I will prepare foodstuff for you.
Arjunacharya returns after taking bath...
Acharya, you have become so much cruel nowadays?

Oh, what is that?

Two boys, very nice boys, they have brought so many foodstuffs. You loaded on their head and they denied to take it and you have beaten them, chastised?
No. I have never done this. Why shall I do it?
Then Arjunacharya understood that

Oh my Lord is so great! He has shown that He actually personally bears the burden and delivers the goods! Because I cut His alphabets, He has shown that beating mark.
MORAL:
Krishna's potency is unlimited we cannot understand his power by our infinitesimal intelligence. He expands himself to interact with each & every spirit soul personally.
