THE THIRSTY CROW

INSTRUCTIVE STORIES FROM SRILA PRABHUPADA

iskcondesiretree.com
A thirsty crow looking for water
And saw a pitcher in the distance, flew joyfully towards it
The pitcher certainly had water in it it was so near the bottom
he strained and struggled but he could not reach it
Then he tried to overturn the pitcher so that he could at least have a little of the water when it will spilt on the ground.
but he was not strong enough to do this.
Just then he saw some pebbles lying near
So he picked them up one at a time, and dropped them into the pitcher.
As the pebbles filled the pitcher, the water gradually rose until it was level with the top.
the crow was able to drink
MORAL:

A little intelligence can save a lot of time.

- Srila Prabhupada.