Gopal Bhatta Goswami

Sri Gopala Bhatta Goswami (the son of a Venkata Bhatta, a Sri Vaishnava brahmana) appeared in Sri Rangam, South India. Lord Chaitanya once stayed four months in his home. A mere boy at this time, Gopala personally served the Lord. Sri Chaitanya treated him affectionately giving His remnants and blessings to become an acharya.

After receiving initiation from Sri Prabodhananda Saraswati, Gopala Bhatta came to Vrindavana and became a dear friend of Sri Rupa and Sanatana Goswamis. He did bhajana in Vrindavana for forty-five years, mostly at Radha-Kunda.

On pilgrimage he obtained twelve Shalagrama shilas. Later the Damodara shila manifested Himself as the beautiful Radha Ramana Deity.
